

Jean-Marc Bailleux

Jean-Marc coaches CEO's and Executives Teams in national and multinational organizations.

Jean-Marc has been an international Consultant and a Coach in North America and Europe since 1990. He specialized in strategic management and communication, organizational development, individual and team coaching.

Former president of the French Institute of Transactional Analysis (I.F.A.T.-Paris), he has taught or is currently teaching in different business schools and universities : H.E.C., E.S.S.E.C., Ecole Normale Supérieure (Cachan), Ecole Nationale des Travaux Publics d'Etat (E.N.T.P.E.) and C.R.C. In the United States, his empowerment training program for SOFITEL NORTH AMERICA has received the 'PRISM AWARD' of the best multicultural integration and management program in Florida.

Jean-Marc is a senior member of the French Coaching Society (SFCoach).

"I consider myself a generalist and particularly appreciate creating and implementing change and development programs based on management reengineering and empowerment. I love research and creativity. My passion: to help organizations become prosperous places where people grow."

Jean-Marc holds a MBA from H.E.C. (Ecole des Hautes Etudes Commerciales) and a BA in Sociology, Psychology and Victimology (C.I.S.C.P. - American University of Washington D.C.).

He speaks Italian, English and French fluently.